Loan Association Drive Gains Headway In City

Plans, Data and Statistics Are Under Preparation for Study of Building Loan Idea by Business Men of This City—Will Benefit Local Merchants

Through misunderstanding of the news of the big drive of the Southern California-Metropolitan Loan Association, some members of the Chamber of Commerce were apprehensive yesterday that the Chamber of Commerce had put its final approval on the project to organize Glendale into a building loan community, or that Secretary J. M. Rhoades had anticipated possible favorable action of his directors.

A drive so momentous as this, by an organization so strong as this, comes within the scope of the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

In fact, it would be a more or less atrophied chamber of commerce that would not make it a matter of vital importance to consider such a drive, to study it, to pass upon it and to approve, or reject, the idea.

The drive represents, whether put forward by the Southern California-Metropolitan Loan Association or any other organization, progress, home-building in Glendale.

In fact, such a movement started by this association, or any other association, in this city, is flattering testimonial to the progress of the city.

The Concrete Idea

The concrete idea is that an organization for building loans is needed to operate here.

"We have no intention to force the Chamber of Commerce to approve of our association, or to hurry it in its decision upon our work," said S. L. Roland, general manager of the Southern California-Metropolitan Loan Association. "We feel that our drive should appeal on its merits. It is simply that we are here to encourage thrift by systematic saving and to build Glendale."

"The full plan of the Southern California-Metropolitan Loan Association will be drawn up today for presentation to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their next meeting. With it will go all the data and statistics of our present and past operations during the last 34 years."

indications that the big drive to implant the building loan idea in Glendale, for the permanent upbuilding of the city, in homes, was making big progress, was shown at the office of the Southern California-Metropolitan Loan Association, 113 West Broadway early today.

Owing to the abruptness with which the announcement was made yesterday in the Glendale Press, the general lack of information of specific knowledge show a building loan association operates, little progress was expected for at least a week for the true investor who takes his investments seriously, requires time to investigate the standing of an offer of that kind, to balance resources and to align himself and to find out who is aligned already.

Business Men to Be Seen Beginning today, the campaign will be carried to the merchants and business men of the city, as those more directly in touch with the financial affairs of the city, with the resources of the people for investments.

The success of the drive also, would be a direct benefit to the merchant, since it assures continuation of his trade, at the same time returns to him a dividend larger than he would receive on any other investment with the same degree of safety and earnings. Thus his capital works both in his store supplying goods for his customers and in building homes at a profit to him, so that he is in a sense the landlord as well as the storekeeper of his customers.

"It is a singular fact that most of the applications for loans made here to us," said Mr. Roland today, "come from people who want to come to Glendale. It seems to us that the people who are here and have a little money, should invest with us so that we can take up these applications and let the new people in."

GLENDAL "GINGLES"

By "THE SCRIBBLER"

We need investment funds to aid the builders now—TODAY; That's why we welcome in our midst the S. C. M. L. A. Bill Reeves spoke out in meeting, and the hopeful things he said. Convinced the Press our "gingles" will guide us straight ahead. John Brown (not he of apple fame) sets Friday for this town. Let's all hop on a Pedro car and do the thing up "brown." Sweet Sixteen nurses graduate—and this year's class, I ween, is certainly the handsomest the "Scribbler" e'er has seen. Judge Lowe is doing splendid work, and many men are fined; Unlike Mt. Lowe, "Hiz-zoner's" not toward leniency "inclined." I don't see how a "Chiro" can in Glendale get a fee— On Brand and Broadway, P. E. crews, when "coupling," treat 'em free.

Two millions and a half this year, permits for buildings show— The most convincing proof of all that we've not stopped to grow. The money spent away from town hurts Glendale, you'll confess— So why not patronize the firms whose ads are in The Press.

OPEN SESSIONS ARE DEMANDED FOR DISARMAMENT

Progressives in Congress War on Plan to Hold Secret Conference Meetings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The demand for open sessions of the coming conference on disarmament and far eastern questions is growing among both democratic and republican senators today.

Senator Borah, republican of Idaho, and Johnson, republican of California, are among those of the republican side who are expected to join with Harrison and other democratic senators in insisting on the adoption of the amendment.

Harding Wishes Freedom The administration forces will doubtless fight the amendment on the ground that the administration should not be tied up by the act of the senate to any policy governing or effecting the conference.

Root is Opposed The knowledge that the President is considering the appointment for former Secretary of State Elihu Root as one of the American representatives at the conference is stirring up considerable opposition from those senators whose views on national and international questions are widely divergent from Root's.

BERGDOLL BOUGHT WAY TO FREEDOM SAYS REPORT

Commander of Governor's Island Excoriated—Court Martial Denounced

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, made his escape from military authorities on May 20, 1920, while searching for a "pot of gold" in the Maryland mountains, "through the misdoing of somebody other than the Bergdoll family and their immediate associates," according to a report submitted to the house today by a majority committee which investigated the escape of the slacker.

"The eye of a man is far more easily deceived than is his mature reasoning and calm judgment," the committee stated. "Money may pass from hand to hand in an instant and at some obscure place, and not be seen. However, no witnesses willing to tell the whole truth have seen the money actually passed. But everybody who heard or has read the testimony should be able to see an 'effect' which could not have been produced through any cause except money."

Transfer to Island "But with the advent into the case of him who, by his partner, has been modestly declared to be the highest authority in this country on military law, we find sorcerer-like deception practiced upon the trusting."

Official Blunders "We see the commandant of the prison turn deaf, dumb and blind to every direction that might hinder Bergdoll's escape. Finally, and as a fitting sequel to this sordid tale, we find the derelict commandant of Governor's Island was prosecuted by one whose shame was measured only by his days. Following the flimsy pretense—only a pretense—at prosecution, the commandant's fate was given to a court composed of military officers who found him 'not guilty.'"

Others are Guilty "Bergdoll escaped through the misdoing of somebody other than the Bergdoll family and their immediate assistants, such as Romig, Stecher, Gibboney and Mrs. Bergdoll. It is hoped that this report bares to congress the others who are more guilty than even the Bergdoll family. Shall they go unwhipped of justice?"

"The inevitable conclusion," is that Bergdoll bought his way out; yet Col. Cresson, the prosecutor, boldly announced that he would not prove that to be the case even if he could."

Minority Report The minority report of the committee placed the primary responsibility of Bergdoll's escape on Major General Peter C. Harris, advocate general of the army, but stated that Harris had no improper motives.

Major Hunt Charged Major Hunt is charged in the minority report with "grave dereliction of duty" in not ordering an officer to accompany Bergdoll, in compliance with the request of the adjutant general, and it is stated that Hunt's acquittal is a "serious reflection" upon the court martial system of the army.

The minority also noted "a certain lack of efficiency in the effort of various government agencies to apprehend Bergdoll after his escape, and a lack of cooperation and coordination between the war department and the department of justice."

DENY RELIEF IS BLOCKED LONDON, Aug. 18.—A report from Copenhagen that the Russo-American relief negotiations at Riga have become deadlocked was officially denied at relief headquarters today.

MISS GORDON HEADS WORLD WORK OF W. C. T. U.

Death of Countess Rosalind Announced at National Convention in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—A special memorial tribute was paid at the opening session of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union here today, forty-eighth annual convention, to the passing of Countess Rosalind, or Carlisle, world head of the organization. A cable announced her death at Castle Howard, England.

With her death, Miss Anna Gordon, national president, became the head of the world organization. Enforcement of the eighteenth amendment was the keynote sounded today by Miss Gordon in her presidential address. The program this afternoon was devoted to jubilee objectives of the organization.

The national organization has set for itself a goal of $1,000,000 and 1,000,000 new members by 1924.

World News To Press By Wire

FLOODS IN MANILA MANILA, P. I., Aug. 18.—Following almost constant rains for the past nine days, Manila is in the grip of a serious flood today.

YOU CAN'T FOOL THE LADIES CLEVELAND, Aug. 18.—She was a woman and entered the office of Boardman & Trayer, steamship agents, to buy a ticket to Niagara Falls. She tendered a $10 bill in payment.

"Change at Buffalo," said the clerk, as he shoved the ticket through the window. "None of that, young man," she replied. "I want my change here and now."

ANCIENTS HAD JURY TRIAL LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Temple of Solomon, in modern values said the Rev. T. E. Bird, in a lecture to the Catholic Bible Association at Cambridge, cost about $4,000,000,000. Practically the entire manhood of Israel was conscripted to build it.

It was also stated at the Congress that there is proof of the existence of trial by jury as early as 2,000 years before Christ.

SENATOR NOT ENTHUSED

(By International News Service) MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 18.—Senator Harry Stuart New, was the strong anti-golf advocate of the presidential party on their recent visit to Lancaster, N. H. The famed Indiana gentleman sees nothing to enthuse over in the game. In reply to a question of a newspaper as to his opinion of golf, Senator New said:

"I am not old enough, not fat enough, and I am too damn sociable to play any such damn game as golf. I like to play a game where you can smile at someone, and if I want to fight I get the proper weapons."

KAHANAMOKU IS HONORED

(By International News Service) HONOLULU, Aug. 18.—Duke P. Kahanamoku, champion swimmer of the world, was today appointed by Governor Wallace R. Farrington special aide to assist in receiving distinguished visitors and to do certain clerical work in the governor's office. Provision was made for the appointment at the last session of the territorial legislature and is considered as a small recognition on the part of the territory of the services performed by Duke for the glory of Hawaii.

FOUR-PIECE SUITS FOR MEN

(By International News Service) COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 18.—Four-piece garments for men.

Latest word from New York is that arrangements are being made in wholesale garment circles there for placing on the market suits composed of coat, vest, trousers and knickers.

The knickers, it is pointed out, will be available for any form of outdoor sport.

Demand for the short trousers, it is said, originated with soldiers in the recent World War. Some say the knickers fill a want for a sensible garment for outdoor sports.

Chamber of Commerce Drive is Huge Success

Campaign for Increased Membership Meets With Cordial Reception by Live Business Men of City, Who Sign Up Readily for Formation of Strong Body

"Never, in any city that I have visited, have I met with such wonderful success in the way of securing Chamber of Commerce members as I have thus far in our campaign for new members in Glendale," said E. F. Sanders, who has charge of the present campaign. "Practically all of the merchants I have visited have either signed up with us or have signified their intention to do so in the near future. So that everything pertaining to the campaign looks bright."

More Members Needed "This does not mean that we are nearly satisfied with the membership of the chamber at this time—far from it. Why, not more than half of the business and professional men of Glendale belong to our organization.

"The sole aim of this organization is to be of the greatest possible assistance in the up-building of Glendale as a whole. The chamber will stand for nothing in the way of personal aggrandizement. The interests of one member are just as vital to us as are the interests of another, regardless of how rich or how poor or influential either of the members may be. Nothing but problems that have to do with the betterment of the entire community will interest us."

All Citizens Welcome

"Then, too, it seems to be the opinion of almost everyone I meet that the Glendale Chamber of Commerce is an organization intended for merely the business and professional men of the city. It is far from this. Every bit of improvement that is done in Glendale will enhance the value of the property of every property owner in the city. For this reason, it is nothing but fair that all of the property owners should belong to this organization."

"At the present time the Glendale Chamber of Commerce has 550 active members. Instead of this, the number should be 5500. The 'hundred more' campaign for members should be only a starter. The Glendale Chamber of Commerce should consist of at least 1000 active members. This figure is not at all impossible to attain."

Chamber is Active

"The people of Glendale, as a whole, do not realize what important work is being done by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce," said Secretary J. A. Rhoades, this morning. "Some folks think we sit here throughout the entire day and play seven-up or checkers, or the like."

"During the last six months we have answered over 3000 inquiries, principally from eastern people, in regard to Glendale. They ask a thousand and one different questions—describe the climate, how is business along some particular line, how many residents in the city, and hundreds of other questions. Thus far this year, more than 3000 booklets descriptive of Glendale have been distributed. We have dozens of people call at the chamber headquarters every day, inquiring for information. Many of these people we take around the city in automobiles without a penny of charge to them. After a visit throughout Glendale, there are few who go away and locate elsewhere."

Work on Improvements

"The chamber is at this time bending every effort to secure the extension of the Glendale-Montrose to Tujunga. If this project can be put through, it will be the means of the merchants of this city securing much of the trade of the 5000 residents of that section. We were instrumental in putting through the sewerage system for the business section of Glendale, and also in carrying the $23,000 bond issue for a swimming pool in Glendale, as well as the clean-up day that was held in Glendale a short time ago. We have spent more than $1000 this year in advertising Glendale and we assisted financially and otherwise in the Elks' convention in Los Angeles and in other projects. The Citizens' building project is the result of efforts of the chamber."

Committee Work

"The different committees are working on a number of projects, among which are: More parks for Glendale, the improving of Brand boulevard, the San Fernando Valley Fair, the fight for an independent postoffice, petitions for which, bearing more than 3000 names, have been filed out by the chamber. There are dozens of problems that will advance the interests of Glendale that are under discussion by the chamber committees. These will be announced at the proper times. A review of the work the Chamber of Commerce has accomplished and the things that it will attempt to accomplish in the future, will prove to any man that we are right on the job every minute in the day."

"The residents of Glendale, as a whole," concluded Mr. Rhoades, "should get behind the chamber in this drive and put it through with flying colors. Let us wind up by making it a 'five hundred more' drive, instead of trying to get but one hundred new members."

OHIO AUTO OWNERS EMPLOY TRICK TO ESCAPE FINES

(By International News Service) COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 18.—A way to avoid being haled into police court for violating traffic rules, has been utilized by a number of local autoists who have not been "obeying these rules of highway traffic."

It has been the practice here by the police not to arrest an auto driver until he, or she, has been warned twice.

Each time a traffic officer "warns" an autoist, a record, including the license number of the driver's car, is made at police headquarters.

In order to avoid the third "warning," and arrest, some autoists, immediately after being warned the second time, buy new license tags bearing a different license number.

Not only do they avoid the humiliation of publicity attached to being haled into police court, but oftentimes they save money. During the rest of this year, $4 is the auto license fee on the small cars, while $5 and costs, totalling $7.75, is the minimum fine assessed violators of the traffic code.

One Columbus autoist boasted he had bought three tags this year in order to escape arrest.

RELIEF DELAYED

RIGA, Aug. 18.—Additional issues have been raised in the Russian relief negotiations by Walter L. Brown, representative of Secretary Hoover, and M. Litvinoff, delegate of the soviet government. A complete agreement may not be reached until the end of this week, it was stated today.

SAN FERNANDO FAIR NEEDLEWORK EXHIBIT

Members of the needlework committee for Glendale of the San Fernando Valley Fair, met Wednesday afternoon at the home of the chairman, Miss Eva Daniels, on West Colorado, to discuss prospects for the Glendale exhibit, and how best to interest the public in the matter.

Several made reports of contributions promised, one of special interest being a beautiful crocheted bedspread made by Mrs. C. A. Kull, 311 West Colorado. It is a wonderful creation on which she has been at work for the past two years. A Los Angeles store asked the privilege of exhibiting it, but Mrs. Kull is reserving it for display at the fair.

Miss Daniels states that anything fine in the line of embroidery, knitting and crocheting is desired, and information can be secured from her or members of her committee, which includes Mmes. A. S. Chase, Harry Greenwalt, C. A. Brandstater, Helen Campbell and Bert Woodard.

Mrs. Ella Richardson, who is general chairman for the women's department for Glendale, was also present at the committee meeting.

FAVORS CREDIT BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The administration bill authorizing extension of credits to the railroads by the war finance corporation, was favorably reported this afternoon by the house interstate and foreign commerce committee.

FINDS PROHIBITION CAUSING SOME MEN TO GROW FAT

(By International News Service) AKRON, O., Aug. 18.—Wayne Wheeler and Andy Volstead may have increased crime, as New York criminologists say, but a brand-new offense is charged up to their account by an Akron clothier.

It's a deep secret and shouldn't be divulged, but the men are getting stout. He explains this way:

"Men who used to drink didn't eat much. They satisfied their longing for something by the call, 'Come on boys, the next round's on me!' and, while women were banting and starving to keep their sylph-like forms, the fellows did it in a similar and pleasanter way."

This is all changed now, however, and men can't do much but eat, the clothier declares, and as a result, he finds it necessary to purchase more and more suits built on the general specifications of a barrel and less every season for the male form resembling a beanpole.

The only return to normalcy noted is that prohibition has deflated the bay windows affectionately worn by those who loved the stuff that made Milwaukee famous. Men simply aren't wearing 'em any more and won't, unless something is done to give them the medicinal beer authorized by Mr. Palmer.

Candy eating, which has become popular, makes for stoutness, but it distributes the adipose tissue pretty well over the entire frame.

Hence, more stoutness, but better distribution.

RAID WHISKEY YACHT

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 18.—Eleven persons, including four women, were captured by police early today in a thrilling raid on a large steam yacht, the Venice, believed to be used by one of the strongest whiskey rings running booze into the United States and Canada. Capt. William L. Curry of Toronto, Can., was one of the seven men taken.

PROF. HELLER IS LOST IN MOUNTAINS

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Friends of Professor Edmund Heller, were today anxiously awaiting word from the Yellowstone Park guides who were instructed last night by telegraph to search for the professor, following the arrival of a carrier pigeon in New York bearing an S.O.S. message purporting to come from him. According to the message Professor Heller is lost on the slopes of Hoodo Mountain in Yellowstone Park.

The carrier pigeon bearing the message was discovered last night, completely exhausted, by a policeman on Broadway. Attached to its leg was a message to Dan Singer at the Hotel Belclaire, reading:

"I am lost on Hoodoo Mountain, Yellowstone. Send help, provisions and pack horses.—Heller."

The note borne by the carrier pigeon was dated August 13, which means that the bird flew some two thousand miles in four days.

REVISE TARIFF DOWARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Further downward revision of the new revenue bill was made today by the house ways and means committee.

The committee struck out the provision for a $10 tax on all soft drink vendors and exempted incomes from compensation or insurance from the taxes of veterans of any wars in which the United States has participated.

BURNS HEADS DETECTIVES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—William J. Burns of New York, head of the Burns detective agency, was appointed today by Attorney general Daugherty as director of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice. Burns will sever his connections with the detective agency, taking charge of the bureau of investigation immediately, it was stated.

SLEEPING SICKNESS EPIDEMIC

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—A warning against prevalence of sleeping sickness was issued today by Dr. Wm. C. Hassler, city health officer, who announced that ten deaths have resulted from this disease within a short period and the seven cases have recently been reported.

AUTO KNOCKS DOWN TWO PEDESTRIANS ON BOULEVARD

Everett Pinkham and W. G. Carlye were knocked down by an automobile on Brand boulevard near Broadway at 9 o'clock last night. They were rushed to the Glendale Sanitarium where today it was said they are recovering.

Pinkham and Carlye, who work on the Thorn ranch, attended the Glendale Theatre last night. They came out at the end of the first show, about 9 o'clock, and started across Brand to where they had parked their machine.

Car Races Over Pinkham Just as they had reached the west car track, while Pinkham was yet between the rails and Carlye close behind him, they were struck by an auto speeding south and hurled to the pavement. Pinkham today said he did not see or hear the approaching car which struck him on the right side, knocking him down and dragging him several feet and then ran over him.

Carlye Also Struck When he staggered to his feet he saw Carlye, who was struck by the fenders instead of the radiator. At the hospital it was found that they were badly bruised and scratched, but no bones broken. Both will be out in a short time. The car was a Ford, license No. 513097; and the driver was Clarence Crane, according to the police record.

ASHURST ATTACKS BEER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Senator Ashurst, democrat of Arizona, "bolted" the anti-beer bill conference today after charging the anti-saloon league with attempting to "knife" the Stanley amendment to the measure which he declared was intended to safeguard the constitutional guarantees of the home.

GREEKS PURSUE TURKS

ATHENS, Aug. 18.—The advance guard of the Greek army on the Anatolian front is only 95 miles from Angora, the capital of the Turkish Nationalists, said advices from Greek headquarters at Smyrna today. The Turks are still falling back, pursued by the Greeks.

MARTHA MALICIA IS GIVEN WELCOME BY MERCHANTS

"Do you know one of the reasons why Martha Malicia is made so welcome wherever she goes?" a business man was heard to ask the other day.

"Pretty," responded the other.

"Yes, that's obvious, but I didn't mean that. It is because she is giving a real local boost to the slogan: 'Buy at Home.'"

"How is that?"

"Every man who gives her notes on the merits of the things he has for sale is giving her a chance to remind every reader of the Glendale Daily Press that he or she does not need to go to Los Angeles to shop. 'See what we have to offer you' right here," she says, in many ways and forms. "Buy at home."

"Every merchant she has interviewed turns to the page to see what she has done with the things he has told her. Not content with reading about his own offerings, he looks to see what the other men are suggesting to tempt the buying public, and makes up his mind to purchase a few himself. The lesson comes home to the advertiser as well as the patron to 'Buy at Home.'"

MILLION BUCKS CHEAP FOR HOUND

(By International News Service)
HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 18.—Bernard Staley, of this city, has a truffle hound upon which connoisseurs here placed a valuation of $1,000,000. The reason for this high valuation is that he is a "hootch hound." Not a rum hound, mind you.

The pup's name is William Jennings Volstead, but he is called "Bone-Dry" for short.

The other day "Bone-Dry" disappeared for a short time. Later the din of barking brought his master to a stump in a neighboring field. The dog had unearthed a quart jar filled with a very fine moonshine "liker."

The next day the pup discovered several gallons of moonshine in a creek bed.

Staley has had to provide special safeguards in order to prevent the theft of the pup.

SEWER GETS "KICK"

(By International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 18.—A thousand cases of bonded whiskey, worth at the prevailing "bootlegger" rate $200,000, were poured into a sewer here while hundreds of thirsty ones looked on with watering mouths.

The work of destroying the forbidden liquor was carried out by Federal prohibition enforcement officers, and included in the stock was some almost priceless distillations that had enjoyed ten and twelve years in the wood before being bottled. The stock had been seized in raids at various times and confiscated from booze runners.

GERMAN PEACE POSSIBLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—There are no serious obstacles in the way of informal negotiations for a peace treaty with Germany, which are now being carried on in Berlin by American Commissioner Drexel, the state department announced today.

Spinsters should take to the law and get a profit out of their knack of attending to other people's business.

Fakers of Movie World Injure Industry's Fame

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—According to reports which reach the great motion-picture studios here every few days, a mania for the malicious impersonation of persons of prominence in the film realm seems to have spread over the United States and even to some foreign countries.

Stars in the "movie" world point out that for a hundred years traditions in theatrical history show it has been a favorite pastime of a few Americans to sometimes pass themselves off as celebrities popular with the amusement loving public. It has become a very serious matter, however, to men and women who have worked for years to attain a position of prominence in films to have someone impersonate them to their detriment and great embarrassment.

One day last winter the correspondent was watching some of the Chicago National League baseball club's pitchers and catchers going through a light workout at Avalon, Catalina Island.

A well-dressed young fellow came along and took a seat on the same bench. He struck up a conversation, talked knowingly of the baseball players and other subjects and finally began talking of "movie" stars. Then the correspondent received a jolt, for the newcomer informed him he was none other than Harold Lloyd, the widely-known film comedian.

The correspondent happens to know Lloyd very well. The ridiculous part of it was that the impostor bore about as much resemblance to Lloyd as Benny Leonard does to Jack Dempsey. Then it occurred to the writer to pretend to "interview" the faker.

"This will make a dandy article," the faker was told. "Why, I never expected to meet Harold Lloyd over here. Come on, I want you to meet Alexander and Vaughn and Tyler, and the rest of the boys."

The faker's knees began to sag, he turned several colors and then began sliding to the end of the bench. In almost the twinkling of an eye he started to run, and away he went toward the interior of the island. So far as is known he still is leaping from crag to crag with William Wrigley's coats.

There are many instances of the misuse of the names of producers, prominent in the ranks of producers, but one of the most notable concerns Cecil B. de Mille and the reported "marriage" of Mr. de Mille to Miss Louise Glaum, a widely-known star, in the South last winter.

According to an investigation made in Mr. de Mille's behalf, someone at a wedding which really occurred in the South played a cruel "joke" on a small-town reporter. Following the ceremony, it was remarked to the budding journalist that the principals were Mr. de Mille and Miss Glaum, and the report got into print and was extensively circulated.

The fact that Mr. de Mille had been married for eighteen years and boasts of three children, that he was living happily with his family and working in Hollywood at the time of the reported "marriage," also that he never even met Miss Glaum, made the story even more ridiculous.

On another occasion an impostor used Mr. de Mille's name, with dire results for the faker. In this instance a man was touring Illinois with a worthless stock in a spurious motion-picture company. Reports on the activities were sent to Mr. de Mille, and he was largely responsible for the unmasking of the criminal to a penitentiary.

In a recent instance the name of Thomas H. Ince, one of the most successful and most favorably known producers in the world, was unfortunately confused with a film actor of a similar name. The impression was given, through a printer's error, that the celebrated producer was associated in the presentation of a film which is said to capitalize the life history of a woman who figured in a sensational murder trial.

Opposed to Sensationalism

Mr. Ince's high ideals and lofty standards in the production of films have long been known to patrons of the best class of motion picture theatres throughout the nation. In speaking of films based on sensational trials he said recently:

"I am firmly opposed to the use of the motion picture screen for the portrayal for commercial gain of a notoriously misapprehended life. Production and exhibition of pictures of this character must be an influence for bad and tend to detract from the appealing wholesomeness of the screen drama in general."

The list of victims of erroneous reports, or deliberate impositions, is by no means confined to men. Recently Bebe Daniels was swindled out of about $75 by some young woman who posed as the popular star and ran up a taxicab bill in Los Angeles.

Wanda Hawley received a note from a young man in New Haven, Conn., in which he asked why she had not come back to New Haven, as she was supposed to have promised. The context indicated that a girl traveling with a fashion show had given her name as Wanda Hawley, and made some engagement with the man. Evidently the pseudo "Wanda" was a great charmer as the letter was couched in terms of passionate endearment.

Not long ago Priscilla Dean learned that a girl dressed in the height of fashion impersonated her in a Middle West city. The impostor rented a suite in the best hotel in town, lived in luxury for a week and even talked the management into advancing her $200. Someone about the hostelry then "woke up" to the extent of making an inquiry by wire to Los Angeles, and he was informed the real Priscilla Dean had never been near the hotel in question and was at that time hard at work on a picture here.

The faker had departed, however, and has never been heard of since.

AVERT SOGGY PIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Cheer up, you housewives, who have had unexpected difficulties with juicy pies owing to their tendency to become soggy. Specialists in the experimental kitchens of the Federal Department of Agriculture have found in the course of pastry-baking experiments, that if the undercrust is pre-baked until slightly brown the pies will be much better.

Another point brought out in connection with pastry baking, especially in warm weather, is that speed in handling is an important factor if the housewife does not wish her dough to become soft and consequently difficult to roll and lift.

FABLE OF ASOP ASLOP

(By International News Service)
POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 18.—Asop Aslop was on trial for alleged theft of hoes. The jury had sweated throughout the day as testimony was presented. One member was so drowsy when the talesmen retired to deliberate that he fell asleep. The eleven other jurors decided the fate of Aslop.

"John," said the foreman of the jury, awakening the slumbering talesman, "we have decided to hang Aslop. What do you think about it?"

"Suits me," drawled John, yawning, "but let the execution be delayed until Aslop finishes his crop."

Aslop was acquitted.

PICKNICKERS MAKE BOOZE

WESTFIELD, Mass., Aug. 18.—Picknickers here do not carry their home brew with them. They make it on the picnic grounds while you wait.

Police officials have discovered that some of the picknickers carried boilers, coils and all the equipment necessary for the manufacture of "home-brew" to the picnic grounds, and that the "home-made stuff" was made right on the grounds during the course of the picnic.

CONSUMPTION DECREASES

LONDON, Aug. 18.—In his annual report the chief medical officer to the Ministry of Health states that consumption in England is declining by over twenty thousand cases during 1920, and that there were sixteen thousand fewer deaths from the disease. The report adds, however, that it is still one of the greatest and most deadly enemies of the human race.

DALE WOOD RETURNS FROM EXTENSIVE AUTO TRIP

Dale Wood, who returned a few days ago with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wood, from an auto tour of the north, says that Oregon is a very pretty country, but that California is prettier.

Describing the trip in general, he told of a visit with his sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Williams, who live in Eugene, where the doctor is professor of chemistry in the University of Oregon. They were persuaded to join the Woods in a run to Portland, and scenic tours of the Columbia and McKenzie rivers and Willamette valley.

"In going north," he said, "we went over the Ridge route and through the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, but the return was by another route via Crater Lake and Redding, through to the coast by way of the Redwood National forest. One side-trip was a visit to the gardens of Luther Burbank at Santa Rosa, and another a call on the Reed family and the Harold Latters, now of Oakland but former Glendadians. Our next stop was at Santa Cruz."

W. F. Wood, who studied the lands they passed through from the viewpoint of a farmer, says that although they traversed much beautiful country they saw no farming districts that equaled the San Fernando valley.

Dale acted as chauffeur. He reports that they had little engine grief, no tire trouble, and that the roads were generally good, although there were a few rough detours in Oregon and on the California coast west of Redding. Although there were 23 per cent grades climbed after leaving Redding, the water in the radiator boiled only three times on the whole trip.

All members of the party say: "We are glad to be safe at home again, among our many friends."

NEW CLUBHOUSE

CONSTRUCTION BEGUN

A. E. Howe, membership manager for the Sunset Canyon Club, who keeps in close touch with its development, is very enthusiastic over the progress of the improvements that are rapidly taking place on the tract and is urging Glendale members to visit it and see for themselves. He says the organization now has a roster of 2400 although its first drive was put over only last March.

Two miles of roadway from 10 to 20 feet wide have been made through the heart of the tract, the electric light poles are in, the greater part of the underbrush has been cleared away, a swimming pool 100 feet long by 40 feet wide and varying in depth from two to 12 feet is nearly ready. The water from this pool will irrigate the golf links which are now nearly ready for the greens.

Most important of all, the laying of the foundation of the beautiful three-story club house which is to be the amusement heart of the club, has begun. The dimensions of this building are 180x157. It will contain dining rooms, a ballroom, smoking rooms, pool and billiard rooms, and all the comforts and conveniences of a very modern country club house.

Besides all these club improvements the building of private cabins has been started. These will range in value from $300 to $5000. One which is nearly completed has been built by Mrs. J. W. Pinkney of Los Angeles, at a cost of about $1200.

If all goes well Mr. Howe figures that the club house which is to cost approximately $100,000 and have foundations 25 feet high of granite boulders taken from the soil, will be ready for dedication with a great ball by New Year's day.

LOSES VOICE IN WRECK

(By International News Service)
COPE, Col., Aug. 18.—J. T. Ellis, local preacher, went through battles in three years without serious injury, but lost his voice and suffered minor hurts in an automobile accident near here.

While driving north along the road from Seibert to his home here, Ellis came suddenly upon an automobile parked directly in the middle of the road, on the approach to a bridge crossing the Republican river.

Ellis had the choice of bumping the stalled car or running up a high clay bank at the side of the road. Choosing the latter, his automobile was practically demolished and he was cut and bruised and lost the power of speech.

It is believed he will recover his voice. Ellis fought with the British Grenadiers in the Transvaal, was in the United States Army during the Spanish-American War, and fought with the American forces in France during the World War.

FLETCHERS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fletcher and daughter, Janice, 368 Salem street, who went to Wheeler's Hot Springs, near Ventura, expecting to remain for two weeks, were disappointed in it and came home after a week's stay.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

As an expression of appreciation of the services of T. W. Watson, former city manager of Glendale, a resolution was adopted at the regular meeting Monday night of the Executive Committee of the Federated Brotherhood of the Methodist, Presbyterian Christian, Baptist and Congregational Churches of this city, the full text of which follows:—

"The secretary is hereby instructed to convey to Thomas W. Watson our hearty appreciation of the splendid service and unselfish devotion that has uniformly characterized his conduct as city manager. At all times and upon all occasions has he labored for Glendale's best interests. Upon his retirement from the office he has our best wishes for his future success."

(Signed) Arthur G. Lindley, president; and W. F. Tower, secretary, pro-tem.

CITY MANAGERS TO HOLD CONVENTION

The annual convention of the California Legion of Municipalities will be held at Santa Monica on September 27, 28 and 29. Problems of vital importance to all classes of municipalities will be discussed by able speakers. The officers of the legion are: Charles E. Hewes, president, city manager of Long Beach; H. L. Moody, of San Diego, first vice-president; F. C. Merritt, of Oakland, second vice-president; William J. Locke, of San Francisco, executive secretary; H. A. Mason, San Francisco, secretary-treasurer.

The city managers of the various cities of the state will constitute the delegates to the convention.

TRY THIS ON YOUR BANG

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 18.—In every city there's the girl with the little curl pasted down so cutely in the middle of her forehead. Kansas City flappers are going this little beauty trick one better.

They take a little whisp of hair, apply the "stickum" and arrange it neatly into the form of the letter of their last name.

Yes, and some of them are even trying to wear their front bangs in monogram.

If passenger rates keep on climbing, it is only a question of time until conductors strike for traveling companions.

SAMUEL A. CHASE AND FAMILY ARE HOME AGAIN

"Fruit in bearing?" echoed S. A. Chase, in answer to a question just asked him concerning the ranch of his son, Frank Chase, from which he has recently returned. "He has worlds of it on an orchard of 500 deciduous fruit trees, not to speak of vineyards loaded with grapes. You see, he is in a kind of pocket in the hills and protected from frost. Often he has a crop where others are cut off. According to the geological survey, his elevation is 2323 feet. There is quite a local demand for the fruit, and the Imperial valley is glad to get any surplus he may have."

"How did he come to buy it? Oh, by accident. He was driving across the country to Calexico to investigate a business proposition in quite a different line, and saw the sign: 'This ranch for sale.' Then and there he stopped and bought it without a moment's deliberation. But that's Frank, and he has never regretted it. He believes that first thoughts are best, and his experience seems to justify it."

"We spent eight days there—Mrs. Chase, my daughter Ethel, and myself, and had a fine visit. Last Sunday, we crossed the line to Tecate, Mexico. The Mexicans are great on entertainment and they were honoring the governor's band, which was up from Ensenada, with a barbecue and dance. It was quite a picturesque affair, a very fine band, and we felt

"We made the return trip of 134 miles from Potosi to Glendale in one day, and got here about 6 p. m. Tuesday. Mrs. Chase stood the journey excellently. She has entirely recovered from her serious illness and says she has not felt so well in years."

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

An apparent attempt at a burglary was frustrated last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dickman, 632 East Harvard by the timely appearance of Mr. William Cardno, who lives in the rear of the Dickman home. Mr. Cardno found two young men, one of them trying a suit case, loitering around the Dickman home about 9:15. The men upon being questioned said they were looking for an uncle, who lived in the neighborhood. Mrs. Dickman, upon her return home found the screen on the back porch had been cut, but evidently the men had not gained an entrance, and had been frightened away, as nothing was missing.

HOFFMAN STORE IS SOLD TO NEW FIRM

A. A. Jackson of Los Angeles, and W. W. Clark of Eagle Rock, formerly of the Brownstein-Lewis Company of Los Angeles, have purchased the fixtures and lease of the Hoffman millinery establishment at 120 East Broadway. About September 10 this new firm will open at this stand with a complete line of men's shoes, hats and furnishings of the medium and better grades.

Messrs. Jackson and Clark have been in the men's furnishing business for many years and know it thoroughly. They promise the people of Glendale excellent service and honest prices.

Mr. Jackson expects soon to purchase a home in Glendale and to make his future home here, while Mr. Clark is already negotiating for the sale of his holdings in Eagle Rock so that he can purchase a home in this city. Mr. Clark has been a member of the Elks' lodge of this city for some time.

CHARLES FINDLEY IS COASTER CHAMP

The big championship race to which Glendale boys who own coaster autos have been looking forward for the past week, came off as scheduled on Grand View avenue Wednesday afternoon, and brought honors to Charles Findley, 125 North Brand, who captured the $5 prize offered by C. G. Woods.

A close second was Dean Brecht, 204 Arden avenue, whose machine was wrecked at the finish by colliding with an automobile parked near the goal but who was unhurt himself. To him went the two books offered for second place.

Harry Chase, 615 North Orange, won third place and received a book.

The affair lasted about an hour and was witnessed by about one hundred spectators.

There were five heats and four entrants to each heat, the boys who failed to get a place being: Gwynn Baker, Charles Pratt, John Baker, Wayne Yarrick, Linn Creswell, Don Kemnitz, who fell off his machine and suffered some contusions, Frank Robinson, Gilbert Eckles, Donald Vaughan, Gordon Carline, William Simpson, Len Leech, Richard Ambrosch, Wilford Jackson, Donald Green, Harry Dinmore, and Solon Wilson.

The man who attends to his business and tries to be a good citizen is never touched by the limitations on free speech.

Having Confidence in the Paint Man

Is a mighty restful feeling for the householder these days when he tells his neighbor, with an air of satisfaction, that he has been buying his PAINTS, as well as WALL PAPER, from a reliable concern, in whom he has implicit faith. Whether you desire to employ your decorating done or wish to do the work yourself, the risk is the same if the material used is low grade.

In my dealings for many years with the good folks of Glendale I have striven to give them SERVICE in all the name implies. Persons purchasing paint from me are furnished with information that is worth investigating by those who would be successful in the use and application of Paints, Varnish, etc.

WHY J. H. FLOWER 'GOLDEN SNARE' WEARS SMILE OF CONTENTMENT AT PALACE GRAND

J. H. Flower, the erstwhile Glendalean, was up from Santa Monica Wednesday wearing the contented look of a man whose luck is with him. When asked about his recent real estate transactions he confessed that he had just sold at a profit of $2500 a lot on Vermont avenue opposite Manual Arts High School, which he had held for six years. He says there is great activity in that neighborhood; that buyers are fairly patrolling the street looking for lots to be purchased.

When Mr. Flower was asked the why of this sudden spurt he explained that it could all be traced to an article in a Los Angeles paper boosting Belmont avenue as a wonderful street with a great business future, a street which runs from the mountains to the sea and pronounced the longest street of its kind without a curve in the whole United States.

B. L. CLINE HOME NEAR COMPLETION

Mrs. B. L. Cline entertains hopes of getting into the beautiful new home her husband is building for her on North Orange street, by the first of September. At the present time she is living in the garage in connection with it that she may watch its construction and be assured that it meets all her wishes. The houses which contractors build for their families are like the shoes of shoemakers' children, she says, and she has watched Mr. Cline construct five houses for others while her own has been building. She is interested in her husband's business success, however, as a good wife should be, and is not complaining especially as she has been given carte blanche to make this dwelling exactly what she wants it to be.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR M. STEWART

Funeral services for M. Stewart, brother of J. T. Stewart of this city, took place at the Calvary Baptist church in Pasadena yesterday, and were very largely attended. Deceased was one of the charter members of the church and had been one of its most active workers. He was much loved and a great number of beautiful floral tributes testified to the regard in which he was held by a large circle of friends.

NEW REPAIR SHOP

J. W. Singleton, a scientific watchmaker, formerly of 628 South Hill street, Los Angeles, is opening a watch repair establishment at 204 East Broadway. Mr. Singleton has been in the watch making business for years and is an expert. He was formerly an employee of the Elgin Watch company. Mr. Singleton has for several years been a resident of La Crescenta, where he owns two pieces of property.

Nature required centuries to transform grass to corn, but mere man needs only a few weeks to transform corn into wild oats.

Another tale of the north woods—the real north as Curwood knows it, writes it and screens it, with new thrills, new romance, new mystery. It is a picture one can sit and enjoy though the snow flies amid arctic blizzards. There is also that warmth of friendship and the fine virile and stirring characteristics that always live in the Curwood dramas. Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery and Ruth Renick head the perfectly-picked cast.

Together with this fascinating picture is a Paramount special production "Life," the two furnishing a melodramatic program that is sure to please. This picture really portrays life. The top, the bottom, the body, the soul, the strife, the love and the glory—all woven into a tingling screen portrayal of the greatest melodrama ever staged.

LARGE CROWD VIEWS BENEFIT PROGRAM

The vaudeville program which was given last night at Monte Vista park in Sunland, proved enjoyable to the large crowd that gathered at the park to see the motion picture stars do their "stunts." The affair was given under the auspices of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce and the proceeds will be given to the Monte Vista Lodge, a vacation camp for children and mothers.

Much credit for the success of the show should be given to Mitchell J. von Preissig, who had complete charge of the affair, and the various stars who appeared on the program. As is practically always the case when called upon to assist a worthy cause, these well-known actors and actresses responded readily to the request for assistance from Director von Preissig.

PICTURES OF FIGHT OPPOSED BY WOMEN

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Federal agents began an investigation today of the alleged violation of federal laws by Promoter Tex Rickard in transporting interstate the motion picture films of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, which were shown last night to soldiers at an army hospital here. The government agents, acting on a complaint from a woman's organization, went to Rickard's hotel to interview him and investigate the charge.

STRIKE THREE!

(By International News Service) POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 18.—The ball teams are still pulling that Joe Miller joke. A lively game was on here between the "Blues" and "Reds." Members of both teams were laughing.

"What's the score?" queried a passerby.

"Twenty-three to nothing," replied one of the negroes, "in favor of the other side."

"Getting beat badly, aren't you?" asked the passerby.

"Don't know as how we is," scoffed the negro. "We ain't batted yet."

With all the states having different laws, it is almost impossible to tell when you are divorced and when you are speeding.

L. W. BALL PAYS VISIT TO LITTLE ROCK PEAR REGION AT THE GLENDALE

L. W. Ball, 363 West Elk avenue, visited the pear region around Little Rock about 80 miles north, recently, as the guest of Councilman A. H. Lapham, who owns a 10-acre pear ranch there just coming into bearing. Charles J. Wolfe and family of South Central avenue drove up also and helped in the picking, as a diversion. Mr. Lapham's trees yielded 6 1/2 tons, 327 boxes, of shipping pears, and a neighbor and friend, M. H. Phillips, who also has 10 acres, picked 3 1/2 tons, 358 boxes. These were shipped east and though picked green, when they arrive in New York after a 10-day journey, will be fairly ripe and ready for canning or eating.

Little Rock pear district has been transformed in 10 years from a vast expanse of burning desert sands, sparsely covered with sagebrush, into neat five and ten acre tracts of pear and other kinds of fruit orchards, gardens and pleasant homes. This was made possible by damming, temporarily, a small creek and impounding water to irrigate the few hundred acres reclaimed from the desert. Now the ranchers have plans on foot for spending the proceeds of a $350,000 bond, issue recently voted in constructing a permanent and much larger dam, irrigating pipe lines and ditches. When this dam is completed and the reservoir filled with water, many hundreds, possibly thousands more acres can be brought under cultivation.

There are from 4 to 6 cars loaded daily and shipped to eastern points during the picking season, and many tons of culls are taken away in trucks, perfectly good fruit for canning, but not in shape for shipping. There are three marketing associations in Little Rock and through these all the shipping is done.

PETITION THAT ELK AVENUE BE IMPROVED

A request for a petition to improve Elk avenue from Central to San Fernando road, was asked for yesterday at the city hall. This street has needed improvement for many years, but property owners could not get together on the kind of road desired. West of Pacific there are neither walks nor curbs and on the other two blocks, these are of rather flimsy construction, put in about 18 years ago when the Glendale Valley View tract was subdivided and put on the market. If a majority of the frontage holders can agree on the kind of paving wanted, the petition can be signed up and acted upon very soon, but should there be a division on this point, a public meeting of all the property owners will probably be called, at which the city manager and other officials can be present and advise on the matter.

BUILDING NOTES

W. H. La Fountain, 203 West Acacia avenue, is the latest accession to the ranks of the home builders. He has owned a lot, 50 by 315 feet, in the 800 block just south of the wash, and will build two homes on this and maybe more later. Then the lot on which he lives is 300 feet deep, and he proposes building a bungalow court on this, in front of his residence, which is back about 200 feet.

E. D. Yard is fairly into the building game again. He has two fine residences in progress at 1231 Viola avenue, in the recently annexed Viola avenue district, and the other at 125 West Maple. They represent more than $10,000 in value.

J. E. Peters, 209 North Orange, who has built and sold 21 residences in Glendale during the past year, now has two more under way, on Milford and the other on Myrtle. He recently returned home with his family from a three weeks' outing at Yosemite and the near beaches, and has gone vigorously to work again, to help build up Glendale.

A. G. Smith of 212 West Lomita yesterday took out a permit for the erection of his ninth four-room house on the block of lots he recently purchased on East Chestnut and Maple, near Everett. This last one is to be built by Mr. Singleton at 805 East Maple, and will cost $2000.

J. O. Bruggeman of 439 Oak street, who recently began operations by contract, is starting today on an eight-room one-story duplex bungalow for T. C. Cooper and G. A. Lathrop, at 329-331 East Maple, to cost $4000.

One of the most slightly building corners in the city, 150 feet on Lomita and 175 deep along Central, a part of the former Imler holdings, which has been in cultivation for many years past, has at last been invaded by the home builder. Mrs. Fred Volkhart, 407 West Lomita, has started the erection of a five-room house, to cost $3000, on the third lot west of Central, and the number will be 312.

"Desperate Trails," proved a sensation at the Glendale Theatre last night. The house was packed and everyone who attended went home feeling that they were more than paid for turning out to see this, one of the most dramatic of screen stories.

This story was screened at Universal City and in the snow-blanketed regions near Truckee, by Jack Ford. The remarkable photography, which is far above the average seen in screen stories today, was done by Harry Fowler. Before being pictured this story appeared in the Red Book magazine. It was written by Courtney Ryley Cooper, and provides an excellent vehicle for the versatile powers of Harry Carey, who is very well liked by the picture fans of Glendale. Tonight will be the last chance the Glendale people will have to see "Desperate Trails."

In addition to this feature a latest Pathe news reel will be shown, as will the Hallroom Boys' newest comedy, "False Roomers." "Screen Snaps" will also be thrown on the screen.

MISS EDNA IRWIN IS WED IN LOS ANGELES

Yesterday Miss Edna K. Irwin, the popular book-keeper at the Neale & Gregg hardware store, and her fiancé J. Glen Stark, slipped away to Los Angeles to secure a marriage license and a minister to tie the knot. They refused to tell, even to the bride's sister, Mrs. Keeley, just what they would do after that, but she is under the impression they are going to La Jolla for a week's honeymoon and will then return to Glendale, where they will join her in an apartment at 415 1/2 South Brand boulevard. Mr. Stark came to Glendale from Missouri, and is the head of the receiving department of the Moreland Truck company.

REV. RIDER VISITS FRIENDS IN LINDSEY

Rev. O. P. Rider of the Tropico Presbyterian church, spent last Sunday at Lindsey, Calif., where he supplied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church. While at Lindsey, Rev. Rider was entertained by Wilson Penn, who is a brother of the noted missionary and author, Courtenay Penn, of China. The orange growers at Lindsey, which is in the citrus belt, are very much discouraged over the market conditions, so Rev. Rider reports, and are hoping for an improvement. For the next two Sundays, Dr. George will occupy the pulpit of the Tropico Presbyterian church, while Rev. Rider will supply the pulpit of the San Fernando church.

"And I've had five or six answers already from the similar ad in last night's Press. I'll tell the world that Daily Press ads do draw."

PRESS ADS SELL HOMES, SAYS LUCAS

When Jack Lucas and wife got home from their month's outing, they found the air blue with pessimism. Property was not selling as it ought, he heard. Mr. Lucas was full of pep from his good rest and he determined to show the community that sales could be made.

Uses Press Advertisement
With the help of one little Press classified ad, he sold two fine residence properties on Stocker street, a little west of Central avenue, and belonging to Mrs. Hazel Rae, sister of Mrs. Harry Miller. They lie side by side, and were shown on the same day to the ladies who purchased them, Mrs. Edith Goss and Mrs. Alma Watson. Both places were put in escrow at the same time.

Mr. Lucas says he is also engaged on other deals and considers the real estate prospects very bright.

CALIFORNIA TENNIS EXPERTS TO PLAY

FOREST HILLS, E. I., Aug. 18.—Miss Mary K. Browne, of Santa Monica, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, of Los Angeles, and little Miss Helen Wills, of Berkeley, the 15-year-old school girl marvel, were the figures in feature matches today at the national net championships.

Miss Browne, practically assured of a victory over Miss Edith Sigourney with a set at 6-0, and a lead in the second set of three games to one in her favor, when rain stopped their match yesterday, was to meet Mrs. Benjamin E. Cole of Boston in the fourth round today.

Mrs. Bundy drew Miss Helen Gillean of Gledney Farms as her fourth round opponent, and Miss Wills was scheduled to play Miss Virginia Carpenter in the final round for the national junior championship.

BALDWIN HOME ON SOUTH CENTRAL SOLD

The Glendale Press is informed on the best of authority that the home of Miss Myrtle Baldwin and her sisters at 903 South Central avenue, has just been sold. The name of the buyer is withheld because the escrow is not completed. It is one of the fine old places and the house contains eleven rooms. It is part of a block of lots owned by the Misses Baldwin which they are still holding, and placing on the market.

Again Glendale Is Lucky

As it was the first community in California to exterminate gophers with GOPHER-SCENT. Other communities throughout the state are now using GOPHER-SCENT and are just as enthusiastic about it as the people of Glendale. The reasons why GOPHER-SCENT is successful are:

FIRST—The quick results obtained.

SECOND—Gopher-Scent is scented, which draws gophers to the bait.

THIRD—Gopher-Scent is specially prepared mush or bait, which gophers like to eat better than what they ordinarily get to eat under the ground.

FOURTH—It contains no raisins or fruit, which gives it a greater degree of safety as a poison around the home, where there are children and pets.

We have a gopher iron which we sell at cost to Gopher-Scent users which does away with shoveling.

KEEPING HOUSE

The New York Tribune publishes in its household department a list of books which, the newspaper maintains, every up-to-date housekeeper should have in her kitchen library. There are books on laundering, sewing, household engineering, management and machinery, dietetics and child feeding, cookery, service and other household conventions; canning and preserving, gardening, interior decorating and a score of others. An imposing array compared with grandmother's cook book and almanac!

And yet, when the sweet girl graduate goes out from her alma mater she either chooses a "profession" or "just keeps house." There is Mary, who is going to teach, and Lucile plans to do settlement work, Fern will go on the stage, and Vivian hopes to be a lawyer—girls plan that way nowadays without the slightest trace of doubt—and Ann; well, Ann isn't going, to do anything—just keep house.

"Just keep house!" How few girls realize what that means. How little they understand that keeping house is an intricate and difficult a profession as any! Even the domestic science graduate who knows all about calories and balanced rations and vitamins, how little she comprehends the fact that cooking is only one out of the many branches of knowledge that a thoroughly good housekeeper ought to be familiar with.

It is true the domestic science departments in the various universities and colleges are extending their scope to include housekeeping in all its phases, but what percentage of the girls take these courses? Certainly modern science and invention has brought an age when girls can no longer ignore the intricacies of housekeeping or, say, "just keep house."

ARCHITECTS TO UNITE

The architects of Southern California have proposed to unite their forces and place all of their talents and their equipment at the disposal of the public authorities in order to secure greater economy and better artistic results in the erection of public buildings. The old method of calling for competitive designs sometimes results in satisfactory plans, but in the main it is an encouragement to eccentricity and the making of promises that cannot be made good when construction begins. The allied architects propose to unite in planning and advising on public work, guaranteeing better results and more economy than the old system usually produces. The suggestion means that the architects of California have begun to feel a genuine professional responsibility. It is much like the movement in the American Institute of Architects, which is now seeking to give home builders the advantage of the best talent of the country and the best house plans that can be drawn at merely nominal fees. These ideas will result in vastly improved public and private architecture if the plans of the leaders in the profession can be carried out.

If, in future years, grateful Irishmen are called upon to pay their debt to Smuts, it will be hard to find anything to rhyme with him.

In Sweden, we are told, you can judge a man's wealth by the hat he wears. In America you judge by the hat his wife wears.

GRAVE AND GAY

A Back Number
Myrt—Did you see the outfit Mabel wore to the dance last night? It must take a lot of nerve to appear like that.
Gert—Well, she did display a good deal of backbone.

"Dad," said the financier's son, running into his father's office, "lend me six hundred." "What for, my boy?" "I've got a sure tip on the market." "How much shall we make out of it?" asked the old man cautiously. "A couple of hundred sure," replied the boy eagerly. "That's a hundred each." Here's your hundred," said his father. "Let's consider that we have made this deal and that it has succeeded. You make a hundred dollars and I save five hundred."

Don't Blame Her
Mabel—Gert is dreadfully superstitious, isn't she?
Myrt—Oh, indeed, she is. She won't even let a man propose to her in a hammock for fear they will fall out.

Her name was Fannie Adams, her color Cuban brown, her age sixty, and she came as a pupil to a night school. "Ah wanstler learn ter write mah name," she announced, and teacher wrote it for her and set her to copying it. She was thinking of the many other things she'd teach Fannie Adams after the first had been accomplished. Night after night the elderly woman sat in the classroom learning to write her name. It took her five weeks to learn to write it without the copy—and as soon as this had been achieved she was seen no more in class. But three months later, to the surprise and satisfaction of teacher, she looked up one night to behold

Fannie Adams among her pupils. "Well, Fannie," she said, "what do you want to learn now?" "Ah wanstler write mah name," "But," said the teacher, "you did learn to write your name." "But I've done changed it," said the dusky lady.

Small Boy—Lions have big appetites haven't they daddy?
Father—Yes, sonny.
Small boy—They'd be sure to go for the biggest piece of meat, wouldn't they?
Father—Certainly.
Small Boy—I'm not a bit afraid of lions while you're with me daddy!

Aunt—You've counted up to eight nicely dear. But don't you know what comes after eight?
Edith—Bedtime.

"I hear tell that a feller driving along in an automobile run over your least boy, Bearcat, in the big road tuther day?" Interestingly insinuated an acquaintance. "What did you do about it?"
"Well, the feller wanted me to pay him 'vuz Bearcat bit a hole in one o' the tires while he was going over and over," replied Jack Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Ark. "But I says, 'Unh-uh! If you don't want your tires bit you needn't—p'tu!—run over my kids.'"

A homely young English chap, having his view obstructed by the headgear of the girl in front of him, ventured in protest. "See here, miss," he said leaning over, "I want to look as well as you." "Oh, do yer?" she replied, in a rich Cockney accent. "Then you'd better run 'ome and change yer face."

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

Beauty Comes With Proper Care

So far has the hustle and bustle atmosphere of the present day invaded our homes that we are constantly hearing women complain that they have no time to take care of themselves. Look at the average woman in the home—nails neglected, hair badly in need of care, heavy lines in her face, scraggly eyebrows and a figure way behind the times—a woman old beyond her years.

To begin right at the break of day, half the women do not take proper care of their teeth. We all brush our teeth, to be sure, but do we get every particle of food out, morning and night? Did you know that you should brush your teeth up and down, with a brush that will fit the shape of the mouth and get into all the infinitesimal corners? Did you know that such a brush may be purchased in almost any drug store for a very little money? In connection with a good brush, you should select a prepared tooth paste, powder or lotion that agrees with the condition of your mouth.

Vaseline Has Many Uses

Have you ever stopped to think what a great help a bottle of vaseline will be to you? For instance, dandruff is a very common complaint among women who spend little time in caring for their hair, and yet, nothing will detract more from a woman than an ill-kept head of hair. One of the simplest cures for dandruff is to apply vaseline to the scalp with the tips of the fingers every night for a week, and then shampoo the hair, drying in the open air and sunlight. Repeat this for several weeks, and the dandruff will disappear and your hair will be soft and fluffy. There is a vaseline which comes for just this purpose, combined with quinine, which acts as a tonic as well as a cleaner. Vaseline rubbed into the nails at night will keep them soft and prevent their breaking; rubbed into the feet it will keep callous spots away and will nourish the flesh. It also has many useful medicinal qualities.

In using creams on the face for massage it is well to get a reputable make which contains no animal fat, for that is what induces hair to grow where it is not wanted. Creams which have vegetable oils as a basis are safe at all times.

It is likewise impossible to tell the whole world to use a certain kind of soap, but there are so many good soaps on the market you can find out the special brand that best agrees with your skin. A very good test for a pure soap is to taste it—just with the tip of the tongue. If it does not bite the tongue it is a sure sign that it contains no strong alkali and will not injure the skin in any way.

Frequent Shampoo

Shampooing the hair is very necessary, but no specific law can be laid down covering all cases. Generally speaking, once a month is often enough, but there are cases of very oily heads which should be shampooed every week. Blondes, as a rule, shampoo more often, as it tends to keep the hair light.

Unightly Hands

The woman does not live who can afford to neglect her hands and her nails. It is impossible to think of a dainty woman with grimy, broken nails, and just a very few minutes every day will keep them shining and well-groomed as they should be. You must have the proper tools, and you will find already prepared such helps as a cuticle softener, a cuticle ice, a nail bleach, a rose-colored tint, and a good polish. In addition to this you can have, just for the asking, a little booklet giving in detail all the proper instructions for caring for the nails, written by a professional manicure, and if you will follow those instructions for just a few minutes every day, you will soon have a transformed hand.

Powder Essential for Oily Skins
In selecting a powder to put on the face you should match the tone of your skin as nearly as possible. I have heard women brag, "I never use powder on my face." Well, honestly, it was not to their credit, for a shiny face is not a thing of beauty unless my eyes deceive me. A good powder dusted on the face during the day and washed off at night to allow the pores to open will never harm any one. Face powders come in three shades—pink, white and brunette. If you are a dark girl with an olive skin the brunette shade will look best. Blondes with high color will do well to select pink and the very pale girl should buy the white.

A few minutes taken every night to put your hair up on patent curlers will soften the hair about the face and make you look much younger, and if you have not time to take deep breathing exercises to make you stand up straight, you can buy a shoulder brace that will help along wonderfully.

Buy whatever you need to keep yourself young and attractive. It is not a luxury that you can do without, but a necessity.

Cream a Necessity

The matter of the proper creams and soaps you use on your face is really one of grave importance, and different skins need different treatments.

COMMENT BY OTHERS

RAPID AMERICANIZATION

An American visitor was giving the other day some examples of the extraordinary speed and completeness with which the process of Americanization is carried out, even in the case of extreme alien types. Perhaps the most extraordinary instances occurred in the newly erected mansion built in the style of an E-shaped Elligabathan manor, of a Chicago multi-millionaire. He decided to import a ghost to heighten the illusion of antiquity, and after a prolonged search and the expenditure of a considerable sum of money, a satisfactory specimen was picked up in Devonshire and shipped to Chicago in cold storage. It walked by daylight and had every appearance both as regards garb and figure, of having just missed the sailing of the Mayflower. The Millionaire and his friends, some of the best people in Chicago, were delighted with its old-world looks and solemn deportment. On the third day, unfortunately, it was seen eating a doughnut.—From the London Morning Post.

SUICIDE NOW IN VOGUE

It looks as if the millennium was once more failed to keep an appointment. Prohibition was to check suicide and divorce, along with other human ills. Divorce seems to be more common than ever, and now comes the Save-a-Life League with the report that there were more than three times as many suicides in the first half of 1921 as in the corresponding period of last year.

At any rate, three times as many suicides were reported to the league. Until the world is perfectly organized and every movement of the humblest individual is promptly noted down on some official record or other, there will always be some reluctance to get excited over statistics. What may seem to be a terrible tendency toward some horrible event may be in fact only the indication of greater efficiency in the statistical organization. But whether more people are committing suicide, or fewer suicides are reported, it seems clear enough that a rather alarming number of our fellow-citizens find that this world is no longer worth living in.

ing unreported, it seems clear enough that a rather alarming number of our fellow-citizens find that this world is no longer worth living in.

The league is probably right in giving unemployment and the reaction from the war as the principal causes, and when times are better, when prosperity begins to come back, when the mental shocks of wartime experiences have had more time to heal, the statistics will probably show evidence tending to confirm the good judgment of those of us who are still willing to see what we can get out of this world rather than try another. Meanwhile, the Save-a-Life League deserves assistance—and perhaps a word of admonition. It is announced that the league sends "inspirational literature" to those who have been thinking of killing themselves, but haven't quite made up their minds. Unless that literature is carefully chosen, one may doubt the wisdom of this remedy. To many a distracted spirit inspirational literature of the kind set forth in our popular magazines would be the last straw.—New York Times.

NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH FINISHED

Beautiful Stained Glass Windows Will Be Shipped About September 1

DEDICATION IN OCTOBER

Women of Church May Hold Fair in New Building Middle of This Month

Teamsters have been at work this week hauling away the rubbish of stone, plaster and brick that littered the ground surrounding the beautiful new edifice of the Holy Family Catholic church, corner Elk and Louise streets, for the contractor has finished his job and the windows alone are needed to make the exterior complete. Beautiful stained glass windows, made by Tiffany & company of New York, are nearly finished and will be started on their journey to the Pacific coast about September 1. As they are coming by water through the Panama canal, they are not expected to arrive until October 1.

Meanwhile, the motor is being installed for the splendid pipe organ which was given the church by Harry Girard.

Father O'Neill figures that the dedication services can take place about October 15.

Members of the women's society are working hard to raise money for their beautiful new church home, and are discussing a fair to be held in the church September 15, prior to the opening church service.

MRS. ROBERT BURSON HONOREE AT SHOWER

Mrs. Robert Burson, one of the summer brides, was guest of honor at a pretty affair given by her old-time friend, Miss Harriet Cook, at her home, 615 North Brand boulevard, on Wednesday evening.

The guest list numbered old friends and relatives and included Misses Aileen Sullivan, Evelyn Ashman, Mildred Sternberg, Dorothy Hunt, Amy Miller, Abbie Chambers, and Mesdames Della Haggood, grandmother of the honoree; G. M. Howe, Stella Spear, W. W. Dutton, mother of Mrs. Burson; Daphne Mae Lyon, A. Burson, W. Tiffany, Bessie Omans, Mae Burlingham, S. Peck, C. A. Minter and Fred Walton. It was a shower and the bride was the recipient of many pretty gifts for the adornment of her home.

BARNES-SHUCK RECITAL

The Barnes-Shuck Music company will give their second public recital tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Leslie Gordon, who has arranged these concerts at the Brand boulevard music store, will again contribute his entertaining comments on the numerous program numbers.

Tomorrow's selections will include request numbers and vocal and instrumental pieces, ranging from the classic to popular ear-ticklers.

Feature numbers will represent, among others, the Spanish cellist, Pablo Casals, in Handel's "Largo"; Rosa Ponselle, the sensation of the New York Metropolitan opera, and Riccardo Stracciari, the Italian baritone, will be heard on the Burnham Supertone phonograph. A surprise number will be given at every recital. With the excellence of the musical program and the supplementary talk by Mr. Gordon, the guests at the Barnes-Shuck store will be plentifully entertained.

INVENTS SPRING LAMP-POST

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Enter now the spring lamp-post—a preventive, so its inventor claims, of many automobile wrecks.

In the old days when lamp-posts were the main support of certain gentlemen in the early hours of the morning, a spring lamp-post, of course, would have been out of the question. But today it is different. When an automobile hits this safety post which was invented by C. C. Veneman, of Chicago, the post bends, allowing the auto to pass over it without serious injury. Then the spring will pull the post back to its upright position.

BRITISH TO BUILD NAVY

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The British Empire will maintain a navy equal to any other country in the world, Premier Lloyd George told the house of commons this afternoon.

The premier's announcement was made in the course of his reports on the results of the British imperial conference.

"It was agreed that the British Empire must have a navy equal to any other country in the world," said Mr. Lloyd George. "In the future, the British dominions will contribute toward the navy."

MAIL BY AIR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Six re-modeled D-H airplanes designed to carry 800 pounds of mail, or 32,000 letters, will be placed in operation on the transcontinental air mail route between New York and San Francisco. It was announced at the postoffice department today.

FORD AGENCY FINDS COMFORT IN ITS NEW QUARTERS

The Glendale Ford Agency, Jesse Smith, proprietor, is gradually becoming snugly settled in its new and spacious quarters at the corner of Colorado boulevard and Orange street. The moving of the cars, repair machinery and accessories was completed Monday, and the employees are now busy arranging things in their proper places. Another week will see this new home of the Ford running as smoothly as did the old plant.

The new building occupied by the Ford people is just twice as large as the old storeroom. It has a frontage of 150 ft. on Colorado and runs 100 ft. back on Orange, taking the entire space between this street and the alley. In addition to this the firm is using the lot on the back of the building on Orange street, 50x150 feet, for storage and display purposes.

The Stockrooms

The stockroom, which occupies the southeast corner of the building, is 35 by 50 feet in size. In this room there is a balcony, 15 by 50 feet, which will be used as reserve space. A number of racks have been constructed in this room especially to hold the various parts that go into the Ford car, each individual part having its bin.

The offices and show room occupy the center of the building. They cover a space 35 by 50 feet in size. Mr. Smith's office is at the west end of this space. Next comes the private room for salesmen's conferences, while just east of that are located the general offices. The woodwork of all of these is finished in golden oak.

A gasoline station has been installed at the southwest corner of the building, at the corner of Orange and Colorado. This is for use of Ford cars exclusively. A feature of this is that it will be kept open until 10 o'clock each evening.

Work Shop is Large

The workshop occupies a space 50 by 65 feet, at the northeast corner of the building. In this department there is an overhead track which encircles the entire room, this to be used in connection with chain blocks and cranes. The shop itself is large enough to house 15 cars at one time. Next to the shop is the service floor, which is equipped with a wash rack. This service floor is L-shaped, one wing being 100 by 65 feet, while the other is 35 by 50 feet. This floor is sufficiently large to serve 35 cars at a time. It will be used for cars requiring minor service. There is a ladies' and gentlemen's rest room in the building. A telephone system with eight phones and a switchboard has been installed.

Thirty Six Employees

At the present time 36 people are employed at the Ford agency. Six additional employees were added to the list at the time the firm entered the new quarters. So rapidly is the business growing that additional employees will have to be added soon. When Edward S. Lawrence joined the Ford forces two and a half years ago, he did all the office work. Now this work demands the services of four people.

Mr. Smith stated this afternoon that thus far in August he has sold 48 cars, this including all styles. Jesse, therefore, does not have to declare that "business is good." He produces the figures, which speak for themselves. Two freight car loads of Fords and one car of tractors were received at the Ford agency yesterday. In these are eighteen Fords and seven tractors.
